PROTECTIVE SERVICES

Professional Security

- ▶ SECURITY CONSULTING
- ▶ PERSONAL PROTECTION SERVICES (BODYGUARDS)
- ▶ SECURITY GUARDS

Protective Services is a market-leading security company founded on the values of quality, professionalism and service excellence. They are raising the benchmark for security services in New Zealand and helping to drive legislative changes that will improve standards across the security sector.

All Protective Services offerings are delivered by high-calibre personnel who are committed to providing cost-effective security without compromising the quality of their work.

Personnel are a pivotal part of Protective Service's business, so special care is taken to recruit the very best people who are trained with verifiable skills, experience and, most importantly, the right attitude. Security personnel provided by Protective Services need to be compatible with your brand or company, so they are carefully selected to reflect your culture.

"Thank you Dion, you made it safe for us to enjoy the beauty and wide open spaces of New Zealand. It was truly a remarkable experience for us all, we are sincerely grateful for your assistance." CELEBRITY CLIENT

"The security services provided by you were of a professional nature and were commented on favourably by all delegates, in particular, those from overseas." NEW ZEALAND DEFENCE INDUSTRY ASSOCIATION

We've provided personal protection for Elton John, Jamie Oliver and Peter Jackson.

We help hospitality businesses look after their patrons with first-class crowd control services.

We use advanced investigation techniques and surveillance to uncover fraud, theft and infidelity.

Our paramedical services save lives at leading sports and entertainment events.

Owned and operated by security specialist Dion Neill, Protective Services, The Neill Group and Code 1 deliver a full spectrum of security, surveillance, investigation and paramedic services. No other security group in New Zealand can surpass our level of experience and expertise. While based in Wellington, our companies can provide their services throughout New Zealand.

- FIELD AGENTS
- PROCESS SERVERS
- PRIVATE INVESTIGATORS

The Neill Group is New Zealand's most experienced provider of field agents, document servers and private investigators. Their 30+ years of experience has built a robust reputation in the private security and investigation market.

Field agents provided by the Neill Group offer a range of professional field services, including audits, surveillance, repossessions, asset recoveries and the investigation of dishonesty offences.

The Neill Group's process servers deliver legal documents and court proceedings, on time and with respect. They take responsibility for hundreds of documents served across New Zealand every year.

Private investigators working for the Neill Group are highly proficient with investigating dishonesty in a business or personal relationship. Their objective is to reveal the truth and deliver the facts, so that informed decisions can be made.

"Your security team were very discreet and professional. We have no hesitation in using your services again." MERIDIAN ENERGY

"We use the Neill Group for tracing, process serving and investigations, they are efficient and always produce exceptional results."

SIMPSON WESTERN LAWYERS

- EVENT MEDICS
- PARAMEDICAL SERVICES

Code 1 is a specialised paramedical services provider for Wellington and other areas of New Zealand. Personnel supplied by Code 1 are guaranteed to have the necessary qualifications for providing first aid, safety and security requirements at public events and private functions of every size. Code 1's experts can assist you by identifying risks, then engaging appropriate personnel to neutralise and manage those possibilities.

The law requires event organisers to ensure people attending and impacted by their event are safe and the venue is secure. This requirement includes staff, participants, spectators, volunteers, officials, media and the general public. By having effective event medics and professional security at your public event or private function, you can minimise your liability by ensuring people get immediate medical attention if they need it.

"It was a pleasure to work with Dion Neill who fulfilled his tasks in a highly professional manner. The event, from a security point of view, ran smoothly and we will certainly look to work with Dion again." CUBA STREET CARNIVAL

"Your ability to diffuse a volatile situation was nothing less than outstanding! Well done to you and your team." PAGE ENTERTAINMENT
